Having Fun

Three-year-old children love to play. LittleSEED creates each Classroom Friend with an exciting, engaging story. During the LittleSEED lesson, teachers use the Story Cards to tell the Classroom Friends story in different ways. While doing an interactive storytelling, your child may be asked to participate using gestures and sound effects. Other times, students may be asked to help the teacher tell the story by wearing a Classroom Friend necklace to act out the story. Interactive storytelling gives your child a chance to celebrate the story, bring the story to life, and increase their understanding of the story.

Story: Oo-Oo Baboon

Oo-Oo is a little baboon.
Oo-Oo is always afraid,
so he cries a lot—"Boo-hoo!"
When the pigeon says, "Coo-coo," Oo-Oo cries, "Boo-hoo!"
When the cow says,
"Moooooo," Oo-Oo cries, "Boo-hoo!"
When his balloon goes BOOM, Oo-Oo cries and cries, "Boo-hoo! Boo-hoo!
Boo-hoo!"
Oo-Oo's friends are not happy. They don't want Oo-Oo to be sad. "Oo-Oo, you don't need to be afraid, and you don't need to cry."

"When you are afraid, don't cry, 'Boohoo!'
Shout, 'WOO-HOO!'"
Now, when the pigeon says, "Coo-coo,"
Oo-Oo shouts, "WOO-HOO!"
When the cow says, "Moooooo," Oo-Oo
shouts, "WOO-HOO!"
When his balloon goes BOOM, Oo-Oo
shouts, "WOO-HOO!"
He shouts and shouts, "WOO-HOO!
WOO-HOO! WOO-HOO!"

Story: NaNa Llama

NaNa Llama wants to juggle balls, but . . . When NaNa juggles balls, she likes to talk.
"Blah, blah, blah-blah-blah. . . ."
And when NaNa talks, she wobbles.
When NaNa wobbles, all the balls fall!
"Don't cry," says Father Swan.
"Watch me!"
"When you juggle, you must not talk. Don't say, 'Blah, blah, blah-blah-blah.'

"You must count the balls—one, two, three!"
"Ah-ha!" says NaNa Llama.
"I want to try!"
NaNa juggles, and she doesn't wobble.
Now NaNa's balls don't fall.
"One, two, three. Now I see," says NaNa. "One, two, three—Ah-ha!"
